

Scenario: Zach Carothers

You are a single mother who works nonstop to provide for your family. You work a 9-5 job, and barely have enough time to prepare healthy meals. You would like an app that would show healthy recipes, at an affordable price.

Task 1:

Find a two recipes from different nationalities.

Task 2:

Follow and like one of your friend's recipes.

Task 3:

Give you and a random person a rating and review on their recipe and repost it on your feed.

Notes:

What changes should you make to your application?

- New rating system where you can rate the recipes.
- Add a repost option on the feed.
- Make the ingredients list look nicer
- Add some new colors to the app

What would you keep the same?

- The social media feed aspect of the app
- The sign in/sign up section at the beginning
- The list of different food nationalities the user can chose from.
